Chairs of the Committees provided reports on the past year’s activities as follows.

S. Paasch, Chair of the Governance Committee, reported that the committee fulfilled its charges having reviewed the potential impact of changing the current terms of Board members. It was determined that the terms would remain as they are currently stated. The Committee will review the recommendations from the 19–20 Nominating Committee for any changes that might be assessed for next year’s election process.

J. Reynolds provided a report on the Program Committee’s work as Chair. The Program Committee has worked with staff to assist with planning multiweek virtual event scheduled for October and has also provided input to other planned digital events. The Committee is very excited about the potential for the planned digital events to provide to reach a wider global audience and to promote membership worldwide as well. Finally, the Program Committee appreciated the consolidation of work of the Conference subcommittee and the Program Committee.

J. Reynolds noted that the work of the 2018 Committee on Equity could be incorporated into the upcoming task force that will be charged to work on establishing an organization-wide anti-racism, equity, and access policy. M. Post noted that the primary goal of the to-be-formed task force will be to develop a policy that will guide all ILA operations and inform program, publications, and membership activities.

B. Harris reported on behalf of the Audit Committee, stating that they carried out their charges as set out. They received and reviewed the FY18–19 audit with the auditors and agreed with the clean opinion issued by auditors.

The progress of the Global Task Force was reported by W. Carss. The task force work had two main focuses to establish a process for accountability for funding allocated by ILA to the regions and to identify ways in which ILA could improve communications with the regions and the affiliates. W. Carss extended thanks to Marcie Craig Post and Tiffany Sears for their work with the task force and heartily thanked Bernadette Dwyer and Beverley Harris for their contributions to the work and who will cycle off this year. The task force is preparing a plan for proposal process for accessing ILA funds, and will be setting up Zoom meetings to apprise region committee chairs of the plan. The task force is examining ways in which ILA can support communications between regions and whether we could provide a platform for sharing resources and publications. With PD and communications migrating to fully virtual, the task force has noted the tremendous potential for ILA to incorporate and feature global activities. The task force noted that an effort needs to be undertaken to evaluate role and job description of the region chairs. One added role might be for ILA to create a database of possible speakers worldwide and to charge the chairs with assisting ILA in securing speakers.

S. Peters, Chair of the Finance Committee, thanked everyone for their input and participation especially back in March when the entire Board met to review finances and inform budget preparation. Also, thanks were extended to Deborah Harris for an outstanding job under unprecedented times. The Finance Committee met nearly monthly throughout the year, and reported its meetings to the Board.

S. Peters also reported on behalf of the Board’s three special task forces appointed in March: Membership, Conference, and Publications, and thanked Laurie Sharp, Rachael Gabriel, and Kenneth Kunz for chairing the committees. The work of each of the committees was incorporated into plans for actions next year and informed allocation of budget resources.

K. Headley, Chair of the Evaluation Committee, reported that the committee met throughout the year and delivered their report to M.C. Post. The members of the committee Bernadette Dwyer, Wendy Carss, Julia Reynolds, and Stephen Peters were thanked for their service.
D. Harris provided a summary of performance of ILA investments, which experienced losses in February and March due to the impact of the pandemic. The fiscal year began with $7.5M in investments. During the period July 2019 to April 2020, the ILA portfolio had interest income of $281,000 and investment losses of $464,000. Investment loss was seen primarily in February and March 2020. Operating support of $1.66M, award and grant support of $134,000, and investment management fees of $19,000 were deducted during the period. As of April 30, 2020, our portfolio balance is $5.5M.

D. Harris provided a review of the financial statements from April 30, 2020. At the end of April, the line of credit balance was at $1M. Balance in Other Liabilities and Deposits shows the $357,000 received through the federal Payroll Protection Program funds. ILA will be applying for forgiveness of a portion of that money, with a resulting liability of approximately $45,000. Revenue is down about $1M this year to last year, but because expenses decreased by more than $800,000, the net decline is only about $200,000.

B. Harris stated that it would be good to see a plan for an increase of revenue from chapters and regions, noting that the disparity between expense to support these areas related and the revenue generated is financially significant.

S. Peters presented the FY 20–21 budget for approval by the Board. L. Sharp moved to approve the resolution and R. Gabriel seconded the motion. S. Peters noted that the Board will need to monitor the budget closely and assess how factors related to the pandemic are affecting and further impacting ILA programs and operations and make changes deemed necessary.

The motion was approved 11-1.

RESOLVED: The Board of Directors of the International Literacy Association approves the budget as presented as a contingency budget for FY20–21 and until August Board meeting at which time it will be reviewed if needed.

K. Headley acknowledged and heartily thanked the outgoing Board members. Stephen Peters motioned the Board’s appreciation be read and entered into the record for Beverley Harris, Susan Paasch, Julia Reynolds, and Bernadette Dwyer. Juli-Anne Benjamin seconded the motion, which was unanimously approved.

RESOLVED: The Board of Directors of the International Literacy Association commends each of our dedicated Board members Bernadette Dwyer, Beverley Harris, Susan Paasch, and Julia Reynolds for their dedication, commitment, and service to ILA and to literacy and we heartily thank them and wish them well. Susan Paasch, seconded; Juli-Anne Benjamin. Unanimously approved.
